

Developmental Studies Hybridoma Bank

DEPOSITOR AGREEMENT FORM

I understand that this material is for deposit in the Developmental Studies Hybridoma Bank (DSHB) originally developed under the auspices of the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development and now maintained at The University of Iowa, Department of Biology. I understand that the DSHB has nonexclusive rights to continue distribution in the future. Cell products and cell lines (with contributor permission) will be distributed to the scientific research community for a fee that covers expenses.

I understand that the users of the DSHB will be required to sign an agreement not to distribute DSHB material to third parties, nor to commercialize DSHB material. The DSHB is not liable for misuse of this material by the recipient nor for its use other than the stated intentions of the recipient.
